

If I want to talk to someone, I should be the one making the phone call. Please do not allow banks & credit cards to be able to call people at home. Some people have to work 3rd shift, and this it is unfair that they should have to turn the ringers on phones off to avoid annoying, pointless calls. What if an emergency happened?